Safety Statement

To Our Customers

Whilst every care and attention to detail has been taken in the design and manufacture of our Pikler Inspired products to ensure the safety of our children, accidents can happen. We, therefore, recommend that children should be supervised at all times when using our products.

Particular attention should be taken as children venture further and start climbing over the rails. We recommend that socks and shoes are removed whilst climbing. Shoes may get stuck in the rails and socks can cause slipping.

The Pikler inspired system is designed to encourage and stimulate activity, adventure and imagination. We are always pushing boundaries throughout our lives and not least during our most informative years. Our little people need to test their boundaries and explore new horizons to their limits and we need to be there so they can do it with confidence but safely.
